

STAPLEFORD MINIATURE RAILWAY

Whilst out checking the locations for two of this year's 1940's weekends, one being at the Stapleford Country Park. Home of a 2-mile long 10¹/₄ gauge railway

Although not running on the day of my visit a collection of traction engines had gathered for a steam up. I also got a look around the loco shed with its impressive display of locomotives

The new P2 "Cock o the North" was a delight, still being sorted before it's let loose on passenger trains. This new for 2022 loco has poppet valve gear as per the original

A claim to fame is that this railway was in the avengers tv program with Emma Peel strapped to the tracks by that week's villain. A blue plaque marks the spot.

Thought you may like the pictures I shot on my visit?

2001

L N E R

MIDLAND ROAD

752

752

90.000
111.000
112.000
113.000
114.000
115.000
116.000
117.000
118.000
119.000
120.000

121.000
122.000
123.000
124.000
125.000
126.000
127.000
128.000
129.000
130.000

131.000
132.000
133.000
134.000
135.000
136.000
137.000
138.000
139.000
140.000

141.000
142.000
143.000
144.000
145.000
146.000
147.000
148.000
149.000
150.000

151.000
152.000
153.000
154.000
155.000
156.000
157.000
158.000
159.000
160.000

161.000
162.000
163.000
164.000
165.000
166.000
167.000
168.000
169.000
170.000

171.000
172.000
173.000
174.000
175.000
176.000
177.000
178.000
179.000
180.000

181.000
182.000
183.000
184.000
185.000
186.000
187.000
188.000
189.000
190.000

191.000
192.000
193.000
194.000
195.000
196.000
197.000
198.000
199.000
200.000

SMR

JOHN H. GRETTON

No 751

COCK O' THE NORTH

2001

252

Машинный корпус
СНКТ-1000
1978
Самарский завод

